

Whānau Say:

We always talk and play with our pēpi, even when we're changing and bathing pēpi.

Playing helps us all to become more connected to each other.

We notice the types of toys pēpi likes to play with. We try and make our own with simple things from around the house.

Pēpi likes to explore different colours, shapes and textures and is interested in different sounds they can make.

We know pēpi understands a lot more kupu than they can say. We'll ask 'Kei hea tō ihu?', and points to their nose.
