

Whānau say

We notice how pēpi is feeling and try to respond positively to their needs. Distracting them works if we're quick with it.

We try to name everything pēpi sees because they understand lots more kupu than they can say.

We have started to give pēpi finger foods. Pēpi loves the chance to eat without our help.

Pēpi likes to practise new motor skills over and over again.

